2. Reasons

The Company considers the return of profits to shareholders as one of its key policies. Meanwhile, in order to enhance corporate value, the Company needs to implement research and development, investments in production facilities and other activities that keep pace with rapid technological innovations. Therefore, the Company will strive to bolster its financial position through increasing business income and ensuring internal reserves, etc., from the long-term perspective, and aim to maintain a payout ratio of approximately 30% based on consolidated financial results on the premise of a stable business environment.

Regarding the fiscal year-end dividends for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2025, the Company’s previous forecast was 19 yen per share and, based on the above basic policy, it revised the fiscal year-end dividends to 40 yen, up by 21 yen from previous forecast. Annual dividends will be 59 yen per share, including the interim dividends of 19 yen.

This matter is planned to be discussed at the Annual General Meeting of Shareholders that is planned to take place on June 26, 2025.
